To whom it may concern:

September 21, 1989

The Tad Western Production Company participated at the 1989 California State Fair's Cavalcade of Horses. This event is designed to entertain and educate the public about the equine industry.

Tad Griffith and members of his crew produced what was a large-scale show for our event. Incidentally this show was a small production for Tad's talents. This show was a complete success heralding praise from both the public as well as supervisors of the California State Fair.

As the coordinator of the event, I was thoroughly satisfied with Tad's performance. His show was well organized and entertaining. The public as well as I, was continually impressed by Tad's amazing talent for trick-riding, roman-riding and a variety of other equestrian feats. His horses were in prime condition and extremely well-trained. All aspects of his performance in and out of the arena were exemplary.

I highly recommend Tad Western Production Company for any scale performance in any type of event.

Sincerely,
