Dear Connie:

It is with extreme pleasure that the Board of Directors of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame makes the following announcement:

Your late husband, Dick Griffith, has been selected for induction into the Rodeo Hall of Fame by vote of the membership of the Rodeo Historical Society. The vote has been ratified by the National Cowboy Hall of Fame Board.

Induction ceremonies will take place during the annual Induction Banquet at the Cowboy Hall of Fame, Oklahoma City, on December 9 at 7:30 P.M.

We congratulate you and share your pleasure, and we look forward to seeing you, family and guests at the banquet on Sunday (Dec. 9) following the final performance of the National Finals Rodeo.

Dick was a credit to the rodeo game as both a contestant and a contract performer. He undoubtedly ranks in the top few best bull riders and trick riders of all time. Nobody will ever forget Dick Griffith. And now millions more (visitors to the Hall through the coming years) will get to know him posthumously. He will be a worthy addition to the many greats of the sport (past and present) already honored in our prestigious Rodeo Hall of Fame.

Cordially yours,

Willard H. Porter
Director Rodeo Division
